

Consul, Counsel, or Consulate: The Meaning of These Foreign Officials Among Us

To register: 305-919-5900

Course

Foreign consuls live and work in all fifty US States. South Florida has the third largest group of them, representing close to 100 countries.

As the former Secretary of the Consular Corps of Miami, and a retired Consul herself, Dr. Hofstadter will talk about what these officials do (or don't) and our ancient historical fascination with who they are (or aren't). There will be slides and plenty of time for Q&A's.

Dr. Cami Hofstadter is a member of Finland's Swedish-speaking minority. She was born in Helsinki, Finland where she received her first law degree followed by a master's degree at the UM School of Law, and a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership from Barry University.

During her long-time service as Honorary Consul of Finland in South Florida, she developed a keen interest in the fate of the Jews in Scandinavia (Denmark, Finland, Norway, and Sweden). She's a published author, and is currently at work on a memoir about her fascination with this topic and why she wants to share it with South Floridians.
