

Domestic US Terrorism

To register: 305-919-5900

Course

This course will be an interactive lecture and include a 30-minute video of different terrorist groups. Content will include the various definitions of terrorism, why people elect to join such groups, and where terrorists obtain their money. Further exploration will cover the use of the Internet by terrorist groups and the Terrorism and US Immigration policy. This course will also review various laws and cases both within the US and internationally.

Details

Tuesdays

10/1, 10/15, & 10/22

10:30 am – 12:00 pm

$50

Instructor

Dr. Klein is an educator and advocate for human rights and diversity. He holds a law degree from Harvard and served in Venezuela under a state department scholarship where he later practiced law. He has written and published two books and has been an editor for textbooks.

at

FIU
FLORIDA
INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at FIU
305.919.5900 | olli@fiu.edu | <https://olli.fiu.edu>
3000 Northeast 151 Street, North Miami, FL 33181